TEACHING RESOURCES

Bring the body happy message into your classroom with our peer-reviewed range of body image lesson plans and teaching resources to help children explore big conversations about bodies in an age-appropriate way.

Our body image lessons and learning activities are developed by teachers with specific expertise in nutrition, body image and health-first fitness, before being peer-reviewed by our network of experts (who include therapists, registered nutritionists, GPs and dietitians).

All our body image teaching resources are mapped to Ofsted requirements and will enable you to meet the new RSE statutory requirements on the National Curriculum in England.
